A Georgetown man is facing charges after crashing his vehicle into a house on Dominion Gardens Drive on Sunday (June 11).

Halton Regional Police said officers responded to a call at a residence near Dominion Gardens Drive and Mountainview Road at approximately 6:27 p.m.

Witnesses reported the road was closed at Mountainview for a short period of time.

Police said excessive speed may have played a role and no injuries resulted from from the incident.

The driver fled the scene of the accident but was later apprehended by police.

The 18-year-old was charged with one count of Careless Driving and one count of Fail to Remain.

Police did not release the man's identity.
