Principal Debbie de Chastelain of Ethel Gardiner Public School in Georgetown South, accepts a $10,000 donation from Georgetown Chevrolet Buick GMC's (from left) business development manager Alana Stroeder, managing partner Trevor Stroeder along with community ambassador Glen MacDonald. The funds were raised at last month's Buick Drive for Your Students in which $20 from each test drive was donated to the school.

Test drives add up to benefit Georgetown school

Ethel Gardiner Public School in Georgetown South was the beneficiary of a hefty donation thanks to the Buick Drive for Students event held last month.

Georgetown Chevrolet Buick GMC helped organize the event along with the school's parent council, staff volunteers and several community sponsors.

Twenty dollars from each test drive was donated to the school and the maximum donation of $10,000 from Buick Canada was reached after 510 test spins were taken out of the local dealership. The school has designated all funds to be spent on new learning library commons with allocation to the Maker Space Component, incorporating STEM (science, technology, engineering and mathematics) activities and coding.
