

Fallbrook Trail in Halton Hills welcomes inner-city youth

Some youngsters from the downtown core of Toronto who'd never even had contact with a real horse before got an introduction to rural living for a few days recently at a popular ranch in Halton Hills.

Fallbrook Trail, located at the north end of Ninth Line, hosted some inner-city kids - all girls one week and boys the next - who learned about things such as animal care and received horseback-riding lessons.

The students, part of the Toronto Police Service's (TPS) Student Resource Officer Program, partook in team-building and leadership activities as well as swimming during their week at the summer camp.

A Crime Stoppers presentation was also made to the youths and members of TPS's mounted unit paid a visit.

time at Fallbrook Trail, which has served as a trail ranch and summer camp for the past 40 years.

It was taken over in 2015 by local residents Gary and Anna Drummond.
