Amica at Georgetown and friends celebrate Canada 150

Instead of a groundbreaking ceremony, the soon-to-be-built Amica Mature Lifestyles retirement residence in Georgetown held a Canada 150 flag-unveiling event recently at the Maple Avenue site to help celebrate the nation's 150th birthday.

Students from neighbouring Holy Cross Elementary School and members of the Hillview Acting Living Centre designed and created 75 commemorative flags each, which have been hung on a wall at the construction zone and were unveiled to the public at a recent ceremony that also involved the developer, Rockport Group, Amica at Georgetown, members of town council and the Halton Hills Chamber of Commerce.

Following the unveiling, a reception was held involving choirs from the Hillview centre and Holy Cross, which joined together for the first time.

Several items to commemorate the event will be placed in a time capsule at the new building site, and officials say the date for its opening is expected to be in 2067.
