

Soccer stars vie for spot in world final

A pair of U12 soccer stars from Georgetown will be heading to Boucherville, Que. on July 6 to compete for the chance to represent Canada on the world stage this summer.

Angelina Kristic and Alexia Ntakos, who both play for the Norval Croatia under-12 side, were selected to proceed to the national final of the Danone Nations Cup Team Canada selection process, the last step in their quest to earn a spot on the girls' team that will represent Canada at the Danone Nations Cup world tournament in New York City this September.

Instead of staging an evaluation camp to select the team that will play in New York, a team from Ontario including striker Kristic and central midfielder Ntakos will take on Team Quebec on July 6 to determine the qualifier for the six-team global event.

"I think it's great," said Norval U12 head coach Peter Ntakos.

"They're leaving it up to the kids to decide who goes on to play in the tournament."

Team of the Week

For the third year in a row, the Halton Hills major bantam Tier 1 Eagles team came away with the Father's Day Classic Championship in Whitby.

The Eagles received outstanding pitching and defence, using only four pitchers over 23 innings of ball, while going undefeated over the weekend, and only allowing in one run over four games.
