POLICE AND FIRE

Woman facing impaired, assaulting police charges

A 34-year-old Toronto woman is facing three charges following an incident on Sunday evening in Georgetown.

A resident observed the accused getting into a parked vehicle with significant damage on Mountainview Road North.

The resident followed the vehicle along King Street to the GO station parking lot and called Halton regional police.

An officer responded and upon questioning the suspect detected an odour of alcohol.

While attempting to make an arrest, the officer was allegedly kicked in the leg by the suspect, but he was not injured.

The woman has been charged with impaired operation of a motor vehicle, having 80 milligrams of alcohol in 100 millilitres of blood and assaulting a police officer.

After sobering up at the police station, the accused was released on a promise to appear in court.

The Town of Halton Hills unveiled three new pedestrian crossovers last week completed after a change in the Highway Traffic Act opened allowed for their installation.

The crossovers have been installed near Mill Street East (Hwy. 7) and Fellows Street in Acton; Main Street South at Church Street in Georgetown; and 22 Side Road at Fifth Line (east) in Esquesing-Limehouse.

"Pedestrian crossovers provide designated crossing areas with specific pavement markings, signs and sometimes pedestrian-activated flashing lights. By law, drivers and cyclists must stop at pedestrian crossovers and yield to pedestrians intending to cross the road and wait for them to completely reach the other side before proceeding," wrote the town in a release sent Aug. 30.

The crossovers were officially launched on Aug. 30 and Aug. 31.

Representative from the Halton Regional Police Service (HRPS) and town staff joined Mayor Rick Bonnette and Couns. Michael Albano, Jon Hurst and Clark Somerville at a ceremony in Acton to launch the initiative.

"The safety of our community is always our number one priority," said Mayor Rick Bonnette in the release. "I encourage everyone to understand how to properly use these important new traffic control devices."

The town is reminding residents that motorists can be fined between $150 and $500, and lose three demerit points if caught for offenses under the Highway Traffic Act at pedestrian crossovers.
