“My name is Dr. Elayne Tanner and I provide counselling and psychotherapy to individuals and families in my private practice located in a rural setting in North Halton. I mention the location because it is often seen as difficult to acquire a solid client base in a somewhat remote area and yet I have done so successfully for over 25 years. I have done the Ask the Professional monthly column in The Independent & Free Press now for many of those years.

Ask the Professional has been a major part of my advertising budget for all of the years of my private practice. People often tell me that they have cut out one of my columns and posted it on their fridge or shown it to a loved one. They tell me that they save columns that are relevant to them, and that seeing that others have the same problems gives them the courage to seek help. I always ask new clients where they heard of me and often the answer is “from the Independent.”

Ask the Professional and a great representative like Kelli Kosonic, have together been instrumental in helping me keep my practice flourishing and vital and in allowing me to continue helping the clients that I see. I believe that Ask the Professional has been a consistent and important factor in the success of my practice.

Sincerely,
