The Georgetown Bread Basket will receive 250 dozen eggs to distribute to those in need, after the food bank placed third in the Egg Farmers of Ontario Beat Hunger contest.

The annual initiative, benefiting the Ontario Association of Food Banks (OAFB), gives residents across Ontario the chance to vote for their local food bank for a chance of a share of 1,250 dozen eggs to add to their food stocks.

According to the Egg Farmers of Ontario (EFO) Facebook page, more than 37,000 total votes were cast throughout the month of October - which serves as World Egg Month.

The Georgetown Bread Basket placed third behind the Community Food Share in Winchester, Ont., which will receive 400 dozen eggs for placing second. This year's winner, the Cambridge Self-Help Food Bank, will receive 600 dozen eggs for receiving the most votes.

"EFO and OAFB would like to thank everyone who voted and shared the competition, wrote Egg Farmers of Ontario when announcing the winners. "Congratulations to all, and thank you to everyone who helped make this competition a success."

"Egg Farmers of Ontario will continue to support food banks across the province with their ongoing partnership with the OAFB by donating $250,000 worth of eggs annually," added the EFO.
