Theatrical performance Fiddler on the Roof is hitting the John Elliott Theatre stage next weekend.

This piece has something for everyone. Set in Tsarist Russia in 1905, the story centers on Tevye, the father of five daughters, and his attempts to maintain his family and Jewish religious traditions while outside influences come in to their lives. Tevye must cope with both the strong-willed actions of his three older daughters and the overarching threat of the oppression by those in power.

At the heart of it, Fiddler on the Roof is a comedy. Tevye is a man doing his best for his family and his beliefs. His devotion to both are challenged repeatedly.

light and clever and other times, beautifully overwhelming. The choreography is excellent, borrowing from traditional European Jewish and Broadway styles.

The talent of this cast is wonderful, and longtime patrons of GLOBE will recognize many familiar faces, notably, Mark Llewellyn as Tevye.

Fiddler on the Roof will be at the John Elliott Theatre, 9 Church St., on Nov. 24, 25, 30, and Dec. 1 and 2 with 8 p.m. shows and Nov. 26, Dec. 2, 3 with matinees at 2 p.m.
