

Police say no safety risk at Christ the King S.S.

Comment on social media prompted response

"A vague comment" on social media over the weekend prompted calls of concern to Halton police, but following an investigation, it was determined that there was no public safety risk at Christ the King Secondary School in Georgetown. Police received information Sunday night about a posting on social media, the nature of which was not divulged. A press release issued by police Monday morning stated there was never any risk to public safety.

Q: Do you have any tips on how to tame my dental anxiety?

A: It's a well-known fact in this country that large numbers of people are afraid of going to their dentists. Some people are so afraid that they neglect even the routine examinations and professional cleanings. It doesn't have to be that way. Here are some tips to help reduce your anxiety. First, see your dentist before treatment is needed. Get to know your dentist and get comfortable discussing your concerns with the dentist and staff. Set your appointments for a stress-free time of day, not on your lunch hour or immediately after work. Second, have the dentist explain the dental treatment to you. Knowledge of the procedure should let you be more relaxed. Third, let your dentist and hygienist know that you're scared. It's nothing to be ashamed of and you're most certainly not their first patient to feel that way. Fourth, understand that times have changed. There are new methods of controlling and eliminating discomfort that weren't available until recently. Don't let dental fears keep you from having a healthy mouth and teeth.
