

Full slate of hockey for Wenjiang Festival Saturday

Halton Hills is hosting a week full of cultural activities during the Wenjiang Festival and it's only fitting that on Canada's 150th birthday, hockey will be a part of the experience.

Ten games are scheduled to make up the lineup on Saturday, Oct. 28 beginning at 7 a.m., including matchups involving the Halton Hills Minor Hockey Association, rep and house league games for the North Halton Girls' Hockey Association's Twisters, and exhibition games between a youth team from Chengdu, China and an atom HHMHA squad at 11:30 a.m., along with a North American Chinese Hockey Association team taking on a local peewee side at 3:30 p.m.

To mark the 35th anniversary of the Georgetown Intermediate A Raiders' Hardy Cup national championship victory, alumni from the club will take on a team from the Niagara area at 5 p.m.

To cap off the evening, the defending Ontario Junior Hockey League champions Georgetown Raiders will take on the East Conference-leading Wellington Dukes at 7:30 p.m.

The Georgetown Hockey Heritage Council is helping organize the Hockey Day event and a welcome reception will take place at 10 a.m.

An all-day pass costs $10 and they are available at the lottery kiosk at the Georgetown Marketplace mall.

North Halton midget AA Twisters edged by China

In a rematch of a women's international exhibition hockey contest held in Georgetown a couple of weeks ago, the under-19 Chinese club team Randy Qiqihar scored with three minutes left in the third period to earn a 3-2 victory over the North Halton midget AA Twisters at the Vaughan Sports Village

Saturday evening.

The Twisters were on the winning side of a 2-1 decision between the clubs on Oct. 13 at the Mold-Masters SportsPlex.

Skaters from Georgetown were responsible for all of the Twisters' offence on Saturday.

Sarah Thomsen and Rachel Smith scored for North

Halton, with Grace Lounsbury, Smith and call-ups Jessica Drake and Lauren Kardosh picking up assists.

Dani Paul and Kassi Hogan shared the netminding duties on the evening.

China now holds a 3-2 advantage over the midget AA Twisters in their friendly games over the past four years.

Georgetown seniors prevail at St. Mike's tourney

Heading into next week's Halton Secondary School Athletic Association senior boys' volleyball playoffs, Georgetown is in fine form, having won the St. Michael's College Elite Invitational in Toronto last weekend, a competition which featured some of the top teams in Ontario.

GDHS defeated Eden High School of St. Catharines in the semifinal and then edged powerhouse Oakridge from London in three sets, 20-25, 25-22, 15-10, to become the first school to win the St. Mike's tourney in back-to-back years.

Coach Kyle Stewart's side also reached the semifinals at tournaments at the University of Waterloo and Chatham-Kent and is 7-0 in league play, with playoffs set to begin next week.

Junior champs declared at Halton Hills Tennis Club

The Halton Hills Tennis Club's junior program season culminated earlier this month with the year-end championship tournament, featuring 75 matches on the courts located next to the Gellert Community Centre.

In the 15-and-under category, Brooke

Kelleher became a two-time club champion, while in the under-12 division, eight-year-old James Buchan took home the title.

Elyse Zoltan prevailed in the under-eight age grouping played on a modified court.
