Peewee AE Thunder best in Bradford

A 3-1 win over the Milton Winterhawks in the championship game of the Bradford Blue and Gold Classic Minor Hockey Tournament completed an undefeated weekend for the Halton Hills peewee additional entry rep Thunder. The Thunder finished with a 4-0-1 record and scored 17 goals while allowing just six over five games.

BASKETBALL

Halton hoops season tips off

Regular-season basketball play got underway this past week in the Halton Secondary School Athletic Association and Georgetown's senior boys came away with a 1-1 record.

Georgetown District High School (GDHS) lost at home to Oakville's Iroquois Ridge Trailblazers 60-47 on Thursday, Dec. 7 despite a 16-point effort from Steve Fisher. Dominic Walker (13) and Adam McVittie (12) also hit the score sheet.

Georgetown shot just seven of 20 from the free-throw line.

Coach Steve Pettit's side won its season opener over Garth Webb 51-48 earlier in the week as Kian Durno had 18 points and Walker added 16.

GDHS's seniors will play in Western University's Purple and White High School Tournament during the holidays.

In Thursday's junior contest, Iroquois Ridge defeated GDHS 61-52.

Christ the King's senior

Jaguars won their season opener over Loyola 47-42 before dropping their next three games.

HOCKEY

5 straight losses for Raiders

Fans of the Georgetown Raiders aren't used to experiencing lengthy losing streaks in the Ontario Junior Hockey League and you'd have to go a long way back since they've gone this long without a win.

The visiting Trenton Golden

Hawks rallied from a 3-1 deficit last Saturday night, scoring twice in a 1:21 span midway through the final period to pull off a 4-3 victory, despite being outshot 20-9 in the third stanza and 45-34 overall.

It's the first time in head coach/general manager Greg Walters' eight-year run in Georgetown that the club has lost five in a row. The perennial league title contenders last went winless in five starts in October of 2006.

Georgetown, now 20-9-1-1 on the campaign, seemed to be in control on goals by Andrew Court, Andrew Cordssen-David and Matt McJannet, but the defending league champions haven't been getting many bounces to go their way recently.

It was a rematch of last spring's Buckland Cup and Dudley Hewitt Cup final opponents. The 15-16-1-1

Golden Hawks lost several players from that squad and the Raiders returned just seven skaters this fall.

Next up for Georgetown is a trip to Pickering on Friday to take on the Panthers, followed by a road date with the 23-6-0-1 Toronto Patriots on Saturday night.
