GHVA donates $50,000 to campaign

The Georgetown Hospital Volunteer Association (GHVA) presented a cheque for $50,000 to the Georgetown Hospital Foundation at its Annual General Meeting.

This was the third instalment of $50,000 towards their five-year $250,000 pledge to the capital fundraising campaign for the Georgetown Hospital Emergency and Diagnostic Imaging Departments' expansion and renovation project.

"The Georgetown Hospital Volunteer Association's support of the Georgetown Hospital expansion project has been extremely valuable," said K.C. Carruthers, Executive Director, Georgetown Hospital Foundation. "In recognition of their support and contribution we will be recognizing the Volunteers Association through the naming of the new Diagnostic Imaging Department Women's Health Suite."

"The Association has actively played its part through our financial support in the transformation that is taking place at the Hospital," said Marie Carney, GHVA President. "We are amazed at the progress that the expansion project at Georgetown Hospital has already achieved, and continue to look forward to see the final results that our contributions will have helped to make at our Hospital and in our community.

"Our volunteers are an integral part of our healthcare team, and their $50,000 donation will help to ensure that the renovations in the Emergency and Diagnostic Imaging Department as well as the addition of the Hospital's first CT Scanner happen," said John Oliver, HHS President & CEO. "Thank you to the Association for their tremendous efforts."

With a membership of over 150 adult and youth volunteers, the GHVA assists in many areas throughout the Hospital. The Association raises money through monetary and memorial donations, by operating the Hospital Gift Shop and Coffee Kiosk, through the HELPP Lottery, its annual poinsettia sale, chocolate sales and by organizing various community events such as the Annual Fashion Show and the Annual Strawberry Social.

The Georgetown Hospital Volunteer Association offers a rewarding and fulfilling volunteer experience to adults and youth. If you are interested in volunteering at Georgetown Hospital, please call the Volunteer Services Department at 905-873-0111, extension 8153.
