

Heritage home

Crown withdraws drug charge

A drug charge laid against a Georgetown man in March was withdrawn in court this week.

John Schira, 30, of Dominion Gardens was charged with possession of a controlled substance after Halton Police raided a Weber Dr. home March 6 and seized a quantity of drugs. The charge was withdrawn at the request of the Crown attorney in Milton Court Tuesday.

Volunteers honoured
