Sheridan reaches 100

Sheridan Nurseries has been a family run business since Herman Stensson was hired by the Dunington-Grubbs to run the nursery in 1913. Today, Herman's grandchildren, Bill and Karl Stensson, oversee the business, which in its peak season employs more than 1,000 people.

"As a family business, we pride ourselves on values of quality, customer service and our environmental commitments. Being able to offer our guests an extensive range of excellent products and services at a fair price is something that has been passed down from generation to generation, and we do not compromise on this," adds Karl.
