United Way campaign goal is $370K

The United Way of Halton Hills has set $370,000 for its 2013 campaign goal.

"This goal represents an increase of more than $20,000 over last year's results but I'm confident that the ongoing generosity of our local citizens, groups and businesses will allow us to achieve this goal," said Chris Cooke, United Way of Halton Hills Board President.

The campaign goal was announced at the United Way's recent President's Ball held at The Club at North Halton.

The United Way funds 21 social service agencies that support programs and services for children, youth, families, seniors, people with disabilities and individuals in crisis.

"Our community priorities are: From poverty to possibility, all that kids can be, and strong communities," said Cooke. "We remind everyone who donates through their workplace United Way campaigns to designate your donation back to your home community. This can be done by identifying, on your form, the United Way to which you want to receive your pledge."

The next major fundraising event for the United Way is Nov. 23 when it holds its annual Holiday House Tour.
