HAPPY HALLOWEEN

The weather was pretty frightening Saturday for trick or treating in downtown Georgetown and Acton but that didn't stop some youngsters from scaring up treats at local businesses. (Left) Marilyne St. Pierre of Party Balloons & Gifts fills eight-year-old Lillian Egberts's bucket at the Georgetown Masquerade on Main while (below) Leah Brill of the Active Choice Rehabilitation Centre on Mill Street treats devil Sarah Chinese, 8, of Acton.

Acton boater missing

Bruce Peninsula OPP are searching for an Acton man after he went missing while boating on the Sauble River near Owen Sound Thursday (Oct. 24).

Nathan French, 31, was in a dingy on the swollen river and failed to arrive at a pre-arranged spot to meet his brother Thursday evening. His dingy was found by family on the shores of the river Friday morning. Police were called to assist with the search Friday.

OPP had conducted a ground search of the area and were planning an aerial sweep yesterday (Wednesday) using their helicopter. It was believed the river may have subsided enough by then to make the search easier.

Police had utilized the helicopter in the search Sunday as well, and on Saturday the Underwater Search and Recovery Unit searched the fast-moving and muddy waters of the river.
