

Starting the New Year off right

Isabel Doyle of Dartmouth Nova Scotia was pretty excited when she landed in town December 5, looking forward to not only spending Christmas with her daughter, but also attending granddaughter Lindsay Norris' wedding on New Years Eve. Unfortunately, Isabel was admitted to Georgetown Hospital Christmas Eve, and was still in the hospital the day Lindsay was going to walk down the aisle and exchange vows with her fiancé Michael Houghton. Since Isabel couldn't attend the wedding, Lindsay decided to bring the wedding to her, sort of, dropping by to show off her dress to her grandmother as she was on route to the church. Lindsay, her mom Sandi Norris and Isabel gathered together for a three generation photo.

Mayor gets Jubilee medal

Halton Hills Mayor Rick Bonnette proudly displays the Queen's Diamond Jubilee Medal he was recently awarded. Recipients aren't informed who has nominated them for the medal but generally they are awarded for community service. Bonnette said he accepted the medal on behalf of the entire Town staff.

Community aids CASHh

Following her 'Little Black Dress' fashion show fundraiser November 28, Val Leachman (right) of The Way We Were on Main Street Georgetown presented Cancer Assistance Services of Halton Hills (CASHh) a cheque for $2,000. On hand for the presentation were (from left) CASHh representatives Betty Fendley, Marian Baidacoff and executive director Sheila Smith.

Cancer Assistance Services of Halton Hills (CASHh) recently received a $2,905 donation from both Shoppers Drug Mart stores in Georgetown, raising the funds through the Buy a Leaf program during the month of October. Donors chose the amount they wanted to donate and their names were displayed in the store windows in the shape of leaves and birds. On hand for the presentation were (from left) CASHh volunteer Marian Baidacoff, executive director Sheila Smith, volunteer Lee Manley, Shoppers Drug Mart Georgetown South owner Alex Bertrand and manager Leslie Robinson.
