

Take a one day artist's journey at Williams Mill

The Williams Mill Visual Arts Centre extends an invitation to the arts and culture community to join them for a one-day creative experience "The Artist Journey" on Wednesday, Feb. 6.

The day features painter, explorer and filmmaker Cory Trépanier, Demetra Christakos, executive director of Ontario Association of Art Galleries and Margaret Kirwin, gallery administrator of the Abbozzo Gallery.

Panel discussions, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., include Moving from the Gift Shop into the Gallery, and Lessons in Marketing the Art and Artist Journey with Trépanier, including a Q&A session.

At 7-9 p.m. Trépanier's docu-film Into the Arctic II, which has been nominated for a 2012 Gemini Award, will be screened.

For years, Trépanier has explored some of the most wild places in Canada to paint landscapes that are challenging and dangerous. Experience the majesty of the north through stunning cinematography and the dramatic experiences of a passionate painter.

Trépanier is also the featured artist in a Solo Art Exhibit in the Williams Mill Gallery from February 6 to February 20. The Opening Celebration will also be held on Feb. 6 from 9-10:30 p.m.

Tickets are available at the Williams Mills Gallery or via the website www.williamsmill.com. All Day Pass is $35, a Day or Evening Pass is $20.

Artist Cory Trépanier travelled the Arctic, encountering wolves and bears, exploring Mount Thor, the highest sheer rock face in the world, and painting at the edge of Wilberforce Falls, the highest waterfall in the world, above the Arctic Circle.
