Jane MacCaskill is moving on up in her career.

MacCaskill, who has held a number of different roles at Halton Region over the last 25 years, has been appointed Halton's new Chief Administration Officer (CAO).

Regional council unanimously endorsed the recommendation made by a CAO selection committee yesterday (Wednesday) in council chambers.

Regional Chair Gary Carr once again thanked former CAO Pat Moyle for his work as well as Dr. Bob Nosal, for filling in the role while a new CAO was being selected.

He and other councillors welcomed MacCaskill into her role with a round of applause.

"Jane has an impressive background and expertise in Halton Region," said Carr. "Her sound financial and fiscal accountability and strong leadership prove that Jane is the ideal candidate to continue to keep Halton a strong and prosperous Region.

He continued, "I am looking forward to working with Jane in her new capacity and know she will do an excellent job to ensure Halton remains a great place to live, work, raise a family and retire."

MacCaskill, who previously held the position of Commissioner of Corporate Services and Regional Treasurer for 12 years, will assume her new responsibilities immediately.

"I am pleased and honoured to be given this opportunity," said MacCaskill. "I look forward, in this new role to continuing to work with Chair Carr and Regional Council and my colleagues to deliver on their and the community's priorities for Halton Region."

MacCaskill has also served as general manager and Chief Financial Officer for the Halton Housing Corporation over her 25-year career at the Region. She's a chartered accountant and a graduate of the University of Waterloo. She also earned an MBA from Queen's University.
