

GLT presentation of Sylvia on April 12 to benefit Old Seed House Garden

The Friends of the Old Seed House Garden are hosting a benefit performance of the Georgetown Little Theatre production of Sylvia, a romantic comedy on Friday April 12, at the Acton Town Hall Centre.

There are several reasons to attend this event. First and foremost, the Georgetown Little Theatre Production company has been entertaining local patrons for years with quality productions. This grassroots production company is passionate about their acting, set design and construction, directing and the creative process involved in delivering an authentic, quality entertainment experience.

The Acton Town Hall Centre is a historic building that has recently undergone an extensive renovation and addition that maintains the heritage quality of the building and provides a new sleek multi-use lobby area. A recent tour of the renovated Town Hall boasts a theatre venue that is intimate for the audience and provides wonderful acoustics and lighting. An elevator ensures access for all patrons.

Finally, the Friends of the Old Seed House Garden will be using the proceeds of their benefit performance to fund the restoration of its historic walled garden. These stone walls were the original foundation of the Dominion Seed House, a worldwide seed company founded by the Bradley family in 1928 with flower fields that graced the Guelph St./Maple Ave. corridor until its sale in 1993.

Since its inaugural opening in 2001, the Old Seed House Garden has been a public garden maintained by volunteers in partnership with the Town of Halton Hills and the support of many local businesses. The foundation wall was originally restored to house a walled garden as a unique feature within the larger two-acre Seed House Garden project. Time and weather have eroded some areas of the wall. Extensive repairs are needed to keep the wall intact.

So plan a night out with friends to support our local history and culture. Tickets, $30, are at Foodstuffs, Bergsma's Paint and Décor, the Box Office in the new Georgetown Library and at Country Reflections in Acton. A wine & cheese reception with raffle prize table for all guests and the cast follows the performance.
