*Alia/Tan Jay Fashion show...
Georgetown Seniors Centre, May 13*

At the Georgetown Seniors Centre

If you want to have a laugh, and who doesn't, drop into Mingle and Chat on Wednesday mornings around 10 a.m. On May 9 they will be holding one of their fun auctions. The rules are simple. Wrap up a gift of any value. The auctioneer will ask for bids, but $5 is the limit. All proceeds go to the Centre.

This is the last call for the Spring/Summer Alia Tan Jay Fashion Show at the Centre on Monday, May 13. Advance tickets only. Doors will open at 1 p.m. There are some tickets available at the Alia Tan Jay Store in the mall.

In partnership with Chartwell Oakville, we are holding a Centre fundraiser at their facility in Oakville. Come out for an afternoon with Elvis (Anthony Von) on Thursday, May 30. Your ticket of $20 includes bus trip, entertainment, refreshments, and tour of their beautiful new facility.

Wednesday lunches will continue until May 29. Due to increased costs the price per meal has been increased to $7.50.

You are invited to join ETAG at the Centre on Thursday, May 9, at 1 p.m. for an interactive workshop designed to inform curious adults 55+ about new technologies. To learn more about this program and how to register go to page 16 in your new HillsView which is available now at Reception.

You will also see in the new book some of the exercise programs are going to run through the summer, beginning week of July 3 to end of August (eight classes). That means it is time to consider signing up if you want the class to go.

Day Trips to 30k Island Cruise, St Jacobs, Lady Windemere's Fan at Shaw Festival Theatre, and Oktoberfest are now on the Travel desk waiting for you to sign on.

Keep buzzing you senior bees!

Walmart greeter Ken Nokes is Employee of the Quarter

Longtime Georgetown Walmart greeter Ken Nokes was recognized as the Halton Hills Chamber of Commerce Employee of the Quarter, as he was honoured (from left) by Chamber president Glen MacDonald, Walmart store manager Vanessa Bradley and Chamber Director Wendy Farrow-Reed. Nokes has been a familiar fixture at Walmart for almost 20 years.

The volunteer efforts of 155 members of the Acton and Georgetown Seniors Centre's were acknowledged and celebrated by the Town of Halton Hills at the Gellert Centre on Tuesday, April 23. Mayor Rick Bonnette welcomed us and said 250 volunteers donate their time in Halton Hills which amounted to 18,349 hours. Halton Hills has one of the highest amounts of volunteers in Canada, whether it is volunteering for the Senior Centres, hockey, gymnastics or a variety of programs.

On the April 24 trip to Rama. Marie Richardson won the 50/50; Dorothy Yelland, Jim Woodward and Pat Frizzell were sitting in the lucky seats. The next trip will be May 29.

Jane McAllister, chair of the programs committee, asked me to mention that on May 7 at 1:30 p.m. Dorothy Rognvaldson will be giving a presentation on her recent trip to Iceland. You will also be able to sample some of the food from there.

Lunch on Friday May 10 will be pizza. This means that our busy tea room convener Joyce and her crew will have time to get a head-start on preparing things for our Bazaar Tea. Have you added your name to a list of items needed for the Bazaar? Baked goodies are still needed for the tea. Starting May 6 we will be happy to accept items that are gently worn and suitable for our Grannies Attic or jewelry table. Baking will be accepted May 11 before 10 a.m.

Max Sprowl won $257 in the weekly 50/50.
