

Japanese visitors tour Norval

Japanese tourists enjoyed the Norval Presbyterian Church, the Manse, the Credit River, the Lucy Maud Montgomery Gardens and the Museum at Crawford's Village Bake shop on the Victoria Day weekend. The books of Lucy Maud Montgomery, who lived and wrote in Norval, are popular in Japan. In the photo: front left, Kathy Gastle, Norma Tripp and Tour Leader Yuko Matsumoto, a popular Japanese writer. Globe holds fundraiser for The Old Armoury, June 22 Garage sale worthy cast-offs wanted

Cleaning house? Want to get rid of some things? Left over garage sale treasures? Please consider donating your items to The Old Armoury Renovation Garage Sale, which will be held on Saturday, June 22, from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Donations can be made at The Old Armoury, located in the Georgetown Fairgrounds (Park Ave. and Charles St.) on Saturday, June 15, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Georgetown Globe Productions is renovating The Old Armoury, which is one of the most well known and oldest buildings in Georgetown. It was built around the time of Confederation in 1866 as a drill hall for the local militia. Veterans of both World Wars passed through the Old Armoury doors and it was home to "C" Company of the Lorne

Scots until they relocated in 1997.

Georgetown Globe Productions is a not-for-profit musical theatre group whose members live in Halton Hills and the surrounding areas. The Old Armoury provides a rehearsal venue for Globe's youth and adult musical shows, summer musical theatre camp and it is also utilized by community groups for meetings and events.

The Old Armoury has undergone some recent renovations inside and out— board and batten siding, a new roof, washrooms, kitchen, sand-blasted interior barn boards, and more.

However, there are many additional renovation projects yet to be done and to accomplish this funds are being raised through events such as the garage sale.

The Old Armoury is an important part of the Halton Hills heritage and a vibrant part of our community. Please help Globe to preserve The Old Armoury with your generous donations and please plan to attend The Old Armoury Renovation Garage Sale on Saturday, June 22.
