What would you do with one red paperclip?

Even the smallest idea can make a big impact in your organization and in the community. Join the Halton Industry Education Council (HIEC) at this year's Spring Breakfast with the Mayors to learn how.

This year's breakfast event will take place on Friday, June 21, at the Burlington Convention Centre, 7:30-10 a.m. Tickets, which include breakfast, are available for $40/person or $300/table of eight.

Over 20 years ago, HIEC and its partners identified a need in the region to provide career information and resources to senior elementary students. With the help of Attridge Transportation, the Halton Catholic District School Board, the Halton District School Board and Halton's Rotary Clubs, the resulting Grade 8 Career Awareness Program has brought over 100,000 students to HIEC's on-site Career Centre to take part in a half-day career exploration program.

This year's breakfast— with the theme Leadership Through Inspiration— will welcome Kyle MacDonald, renowned for his off-beat, inspirational ideas and best known for trading one red paperclip for a house.

MacDonald's year-long adventure in bartering includes trading for a door-knob, a music recording contract, an afternoon with Alice Cooper, a movie role, and finally, a house. Those in attendance will be inspired to "start small, think big and have fun" as MacDonald demonstrates how to apply his red paperclip idea to everyday life.

To learn more, to register or to inquire about sponsorship opportunities, please visit www.hiec.on.ca/breakfast or call 905-634-2575 ext. 28.
