Braun to headline Acton benefit concert

By MARJ BRITTON
Knox Presbyterian Church

Russell Braun, a dramatic baritone singer, is according to The Toronto Star, "one of this nation's operatic treasures".

He will be performing at Knox Presbyterian Church in Acton on Saturday, Jan. 11, at 7 p.m. His wife, Carolyn Maule, an exquisite concert pianist, will be accompanying him.

Reports said of one of their concerts, "Together these two are able to stun their audience into total silence in awe of their powerful performance."

At this, our third annual Local Talent Benefit Concert, Knox Church is proud and honoured to feature these "star performers" and also a wide variety of other great artists who have volunteered to inspire you with their God-given abilities.

The line-up includes music and song by the Kerr Family, Robert Little's Everybody Dance Club, Acton High School's Jazz Band, multi-talented Brian Denny and company, fitness expert Leanne Monaghan, Bruno Seiler with his comedy group, storyteller Ruth Kranendonk, singers Kevin Hazzard and Monica, accompanied by son Jake, and Knox Church's choir led by musical director Sharon Dutton.

During the intermission the audience can view the various artistic works on display by Barb Van Sickle, John Van Bendegam, Doris Treleaven, and Melissa Benham and Dakota Lepard (two of last year's scholarship recipients).

There will be prizes for the winning entries in an art contest that the young people may enter during the evening.

Emcee for the evening is the interesting Scot, George McCowan, with Bob Jeffries as technical director and Kevin Hazzard as musical director. After the show, mingle and chat with the performers where a lunch and refreshments will be served.

There is no admission charge but your free-will offering (receipts given for donations over $20) to the church's Artist Assistance Fund will help someone who is an aspiring artist. These passionate artists need only to apply to the Assistance Fund for financial help to achieve his or her goal.
