

TED'S TOP 32 PHOTOS

All photos in the following five pages are all by Ted Brown

Happy Retirement Ted from your family at The IFP

When I decided to retire, I assumed I'd simply work up to my last day, clean up any loose ends at my desk, archive the last images and make sure I left my workstation clean and tidy for the next person.

Apparently general manager Steve Foreman had different plans!
"Let's publish a series of your top photo's from the past 32 years," he said, gushing with enthusiasm. As panic set in, I knew I had to sort through the years to find them.

What you hold in your hands is "Ted's Top 32"—32 photos coinciding with 32 years of service. It's tough to pick my 'best' 32.

That's like asking a father to pick his favorite child. Besides, my 'best' photo one day may not be a 'best' another day.

However, this lead photo of the March 26, 1986 James Snow Parkway crash is quite significant for me—it was my first award winning news photo, garnering numerous awards from within the industry. It ran in newspapers across the GTA, and it made me realize I'd suddenly crossed a line—I had become a serious photojournalist. So be my guest, take a look, reminisce and enjoy. I hope these images will generate some thoughts, feelings and memories.

Enjoy... Ted

Thanks, Ted, for all the great photos and stories these past 32 years. You have done your paper and your community proud!
