

Georgetown Pipe Band seeks new members— no experience necessary

The Georgetown Pipe Band has been an integral part of the Halton Hills community for over 70 years.

It is an organization active not only in local cultural events, festivals, and pipe band competitions but also in promoting the culture and traditions of Scotland through bagpipes and drums.

To continue that tradition the organization is reaching out to the young people of the community interested in learning to play either pipes or drums.

The Pipe Band's instructors are world class with both the Pipe Major David F. Stewart and Drumming Instructor Craig Stewart having competed at the highest levels both in Canada and Scotland.

The Spring session begins on Thursday, Feb. 27, in the meeting rooms above The Shepherd's Crook restaurant (access is through the restaurant), 80 Main St. in Georgetown, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Anyone wishing to take part and register for lessons is asked to contact the Band through its website: www.georgetownpipeband.ca

No previous experience on pipes or drums is necessary. However, experienced pipers and drummers are also welcome.

Drum instructor Craig Stewart teaches young members.
