Spring activities begin at the Acton Srs Centre

By JULIE CONROY

Acton Seniors Centre

When I walked into the Boathouse on Tuesday morning it was very busy with 17 members taking a review of first aid. Halton Hills Aquatic Co-ordinator Heather Morris-Stokes and Halton Hills Volunteer Co-ordinator for Seniors, Heather Beaumont, instructed them on a variety of situations that might occur. They also had the opportunity of "hands on" with the dummies and defibrillator. Hopefully they will never need to use these skills, but will feel very comfortable should the need arise.

It may have felt like winter had returned last Tuesday, but inside the Legion at the Fashion Show it looked and felt like spring with all the colourful outfits. Ninety-seven ladies (including a few men) enjoyed watching the Acton Seniors Centre models showcase the Alia fashions from the Alia Milton store. They modeled everything from dressy to casual. Everyone left feeling that spring would get here eventually.

If you have signed up for the trip to St. Jacob's Market on Thursday, May 8 followed by lunch at Crossroads please pay as soon as possible. The date has changed several times due to conflicting schedules but May 8 is the correct one. The price includes the bus and gratuities for the driver. You are on your own for lunch. You can either choose from the menu or enjoy their great buffet lunch. Crossroads has a wonderful gift shop as well as a great restaurant. There will be room on the bus for you to bring a cooler if you are thinking of purchasing items that might spoil if the weather ever turns warm.

Lunch on Friday, May 2 will be sandwiches and salad plus dessert of course. Hopefully you will be able to take your coffee onto the deck by then and enjoy the view.

The semi-annual Acton and Georgetown Blue Springs Golf game will take place on Wednesday, May 21. We will play nine holes followed by lunch. If you wish, you can play a further nine holes after lunch. If you are interested you can purchase tickets at either the Boathouse in Prospect Park (Acton Seniors Centre temporary location) or talk to Nellie Bell at the Georgetown Centre.

The next movie afternoon will be on Tuesday, May 13th at 1 p.m. Critics have said Saving Mr. Banks is "one of the year's best films." Where her book ended, their story began.
