Cleaning up Halton Hills

Halton Hills residents were out in full force on the weekend to help clean up the town after the long winter. From left, Smita Thekkepat, Ramakrishnan Krishnamoorthy and Sandeep Pillai pitch in cleaning up around the area of Trafalgar Rd. and the 401 interchange.

Micheal and Connor Hamilton and Ryan Carpentier did a great job collecting a lot of garbage on Clean Up Day around the Gellert Community Centre and park.

Georgetown teens, Cindy Dziuba, Mad-die Shiell, and Liza Cui took a selfie and then went out to pick up trash during Halton Hills Clean Up Day.

Volunteers who helped Acton seniors homeowners by cleaning up trees, branches and debris left from the winter's ice storm pose for a group shot before heading out. Churches and volunteers are worked together Saturday to help those in need with their tree debris. Acton had close to 50 volunteers, with the Acton Legion providing the dinner while about 150 volunteers gathered at the Georgetown Alliance Church with the Lions club providing lunch at 1 p.m. at Mold-Masters SportsPlex.
