

Optimists host public speaking contest

By GAIL POWELL

Optimist Club of Halton Hills

Recently the Optimist Club of Halton Hills hosted their annual Zone 6 Oratorical for students under 19 years old. Five contestants ranging in age from 10-19 from three local Optimist clubs (Caledon, Brampton and Halton Hills) competed for an opportunity to move on to the Central Ontario District Oratorical finals for a chance to win one of three scholarship prizes. The task was to prepare and present a speech 4-5 minutes in length on the topic: "How My Passions Impact the World." Topics ranged from environmental conservation and sports to youth initiatives, Claudia Hennigan and Sue Montgomery, district chair (Orangeville) for the Optimist Oratorical Contest.

math and helping others find their own passions in life. Acton's Andrew Hilson and Georgetown's Claudia Hennigan were the two competitors from the Halton Hills Optimist Club. Hennigan, who won silver at the Zone 6 level, now moves on to the District competition. Prizes at the District level include: 1st place: a $2,500 scholarship. 2nd place: $1,500 scholarship and 3rd place: $1,000 scholarship.

Ann's Cartage

Home, Office, & Piano Movers

Serving all of Ontario since 1968

Peter & Sue Marrows

Ann's Cartage is a grass roots company, set apart from the competition because of their steadfast reputation and passion to exceed the expectations of an ever growing community. "Big or small, we move it all" says Peter who strives to meet all the needs of both his residential and commercial customers. From their 26 foot truck which is used for large estate homes, to their 20 foot truck which is ideal for 3 bedroom homes, condominiums, and commercial moves, to their 14 foot truck which is perfect for pianos, student moves or very small jobs, no matter the size of your move, they will get the job done right. Repeat clientele, who have turned to Ann's Cartage time and time again for reliable service, are now requesting affordable solutions to moving their kids to college, their parents to nursing homes, or themselves to retirement communities. "It's great to talk to customers and their families who we have moved so many times over the years. When you give them all you can, and keep their best interests and costs in mind, they will always come back to us knowing that we will go that extra mile for them." Says Peter. Ann's Cartage has added three new air ride trucks to their fleet this year, just in time for another busy season of moving!
