

Sally Stull wants the mayor's job; Fogal, Johnson seek re-election

There is a challenge for the mayor's office in the upcoming municipal elections.

Sally Stull of Eighth Line filed her nomination papers on June 19 to run for the mayor's job. In the past year, Stull has commented on the Town's Heritage Register and the Stand-Alone Aggregate Uses policy.

Halton Hills Mayor Rick Bonnette filed his nomination papers in May. He has held the Mayor's job since 2003, and been a member of Council since 1982.

Longtime Wards 3&4 Regional Councillor Jane Fogal filed nomination papers Monday to seek re-election in the Oct. 27 municipal election. Fogal has held this job since 2003, and has been a member of council since 1997.

Ward 3 Councillor Moya Johnson filed nomination papers Tuesday to seek re-election in the Oct. 27 municipal election. Johnson has held this job since 1994.

Other newly filed candidates also include Greg Woodruff of Burlington and Syd All Naqvi of Oakville, both vying for the Regional Chair position currently held by incumbent Gary Carr, who filed his papers in January.

As well, Dominique Janssens has filed her papers for a trustee position on the Conseil Scolaire de District Catholique Centre-Sud (French language Catholic School Board).

Candidates have until Sept. 12 to file their nomination papers. If elected, their term of office will be from Dec. 1, 2014 to Nov. 30, 2018.

Three charged with restaurant break-in

Three Georgetown men are charged in connection with a break and enter into a shed at Symposium Restaurant on Guelph St.

Police say about 1:30 a.m. Monday an employee of the restaurant saw three people attempting to break into the rear shed where the empty beer kegs are stored and called police.

The trio fled on foot when the employee interrupted them. Police responded and located three suspects a short time later.

Charged with break and enter and commit theft are Aaron Bell, 26, Bailey Collins, 18, and Christopher Cordeiro, 28, all of Georgetown. Cordeiro is also charged with failing to comply with a prohibition order.
