Top of the class

Christ the King Secondary School's Jennifer Lewis (centre) is the recipient of the annual Halton Hills Sewing & Vacuum Award for being the Grade 12 student with the most promising career in her field of choice, which is making bridal gowns. Lewis is an aspiring wedding dress designer who will begin classes in September in Humber College's fashion management program. For her efforts, Lewis received a Baby Lock sewing machine Rachel model worth approximately $900 from Halton Hills Sewing & Vacuum co-owner Heike Ciufu (right). At left is CtK fashion teacher Marianne Ples.
