Challenge is seeking more participants

Continued from pg. 8

The Bike Challenge Committee is looking for more participants to sign up since the next 150,000 kms needs to be accomplished this cycling season. New participants are allowed to add in all the kilometres they have cycled this summer. The Bike Challenge is an easy and fun way for residents and families to contribute to their local hospital by simply riding their bikes and logging the kilometres at www. bikechallenge.ca. An additional $41,000 in pledged donations is waiting for the Challenge to reach its ultimate goal of 300,000 kms.

Pledges have been made by The Peter Gilgan Foundation/Mattamy Homes, $25,000; PwC Epic Tour Halton, $5,000; TD Bank Group, $5,000; CPI, $3,000; Georgetown Chevrolet Buick GMC, $3,000 for a total of an additional $41,000 at the completion of the Bike Challenge.

Those interested in helping the community reach its goal should check out www.bikechallenge.ca and email hhcycling@haltonhills.ca for further information or if they have difficulty registering. Anyone can participate and the cycling does not need to take place in Halton Hills.

Superior Glove Works handed over its cheque for $2,000 to the Bike Challenge. Making the presentation was President Joe Geng to Jennifer McNally, Hospital Foundation Fundraising Coordinator and Jane Fogal, Bike Challenge Committee chair.

The Committee is also hosting a community bike ride on Sunday from the Halton Hills Civic Centre to the Leathertown Festival in Acton. Details at haltonhills.ca/CyclingEvents.
