The way we were

Soap box derby

It used to be a fall classic in Georgetown — the annual Soap Box Derby down the Maple Ave. hill.

HANGING AROUND

Ross Anderson sent in this photo of four kids having fun in a hammock. He aptly calls the photo four peas in a pod. Got a photo you want to share? Email: cgamble@theifp.ca.

Airport noise is ruining our town: reader

Has anyone else noticed that we are now on the GTAA's Departure and Arrival routes?

The noise overhead is deafening. Planes leaving or arriving less than a minute apart, constantly, all day.

A quick look at the GTAA's website and their WebTrak feature reveals that Georgetown is now the main fly-over point for a vast number of departing and arriving flights, often at altitudes of 5,000 feet and less.

Don't let our beautiful town be ruined by the GTAA.

Contact the GTAA noise complaint office (you must type it in the search engine, it is not easily accessed), email Mayor Rick Bonnette and MP Michael Chong.

This must stop.

Karma, CRA are coming

This letter is (on behalf of) my mother, whom had her GST cheque cashed by someone other than her, without her knowledge.

First of all, the cheque wasn't stolen from her mailbox, but it was obviously delivered by snail mail to the wrong address.

She had been waiting for the cheque for a week or so, which never came, so she ended up calling the Canada Revenue Service to find out if it was sent out.

To her surprise it was sent out and it was also cashed.

Somebody out there is $102.25 richer.

The Canada Revenue Service is investigating and soon will receive the endorsed cheque back and will find out where and whom cashed the cheque.

Sleep well for a couple more days before you get found out.

The mature way to have handled getting the wrong mail would have been to write on the envelope "return to sender."

But in your case, that little mistake may have cost you more than you bargained for.

Sleep well my friend.

Karma will come calling soon.

Please, don't turn around in traffic

Well, they are still doing it.

These drivers who think that an intersection with lights controlling eight or 12 lanes of traffic, with delayed signals, pedestrian timed crossing, safety islands, advanced greens and no left turn signs, plus traffic speeds of 70/km-plus, is a good place to make a u-turn.

I don't even know why it's legal when you can put so many people in jeopardy just so you can turn around.
