

151 Leslie descendants who gathered at Rockwood Conservation Area last month.

More than 150 Leslie descendants came together to celebrate their common heritage this summer.

While most were the descendants of John Leslie and Letty Ann Boke who settled in Williamsburg (now Glen Williams) in 1819, there were also present descendants from three other lines of this ancient Scottish family.

Piper Mark McClennan called the clan together and those gathered learned of ancient Leslie history from William Leslie, Commissioner of Clan Leslie North America; the history of the Irish Plantation during the 169 years the Leslie ancestors lived in the north of Ireland as told by Robert

Leslie; and the history of pioneer life in the north of Halton County as told by local author and historian, John McDonald.

This reunion brought to a close a tradition of bi-annual gatherings that had started in 1926. However, there is the opportunity for all Leslie descendants to maintain the family connection by membership in the Clan Leslie Society International.

Every two years, society members have the chance to gather, and in August of 2016, this opportunity will be a gathering at the Fergus Highland Games in Fergus. For information as plans develop, please contact Robert Leslie, lesliereunion2014@gmail.com.
