

Daylight home break-ins happening in Georgetown

Halton Police are investigating several daylight residential break-ins that occurred in Georgetown over the past few days.

On Friday, police say cash and jewelry were taken from a McIntyre Cr. home sometime between 12:30-3 p.m. The lock on a rear door was forced open to gain entry and the home was ransacked.

Also on Friday, cash and antique currency were taken from a Shelley St. home sometime between 11:15 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

Police Blotter

The homeowner returned home to find the rear door damaged, the house ransacked and items missing.

On Monday, about 1:15 p.m., a Gairey Dr. resident heard a loud smash coming from the back of a neighbouring home and saw a male leaving the house. He was seen getting on a mountain bike and riding it north on Gairey Dr. to Guelph St. He is described as 5'8" to 5'10", heavy-set with a short, reddish beard and hair.

Also on Monday, police say a Rosefield Dr. homeowner came home to find the rear patio door ajar and the house rummaged through. Missing is a wedding band.

Police believe all of the break-ins are related. They advise residents to contact police if they notice any suspicious people or vehicles in their neighbourhood.
