Have you seen 100 forks?

By Florence Riehl
Georgetown Active Living Centre

The mystery continues. Where can the forks be? Maybe we should increase the reward! Do you know where they might be? If you have any idea where someone may have hidden them please let the Office know otherwise you might be the one eating with your fingers at the next dinner.

You spoke and we listened. Neil Cotton and Hawk's Nest are coming to your Hillsview Active Living Centre on Friday, Feb. 13, 7 to 11 p.m. It's an evening of musical history of the Country Music revolution of Outlaw Country, including some of your favourites— Waylon Jennings, Willie Nelson, Merle Haggard, Hank Williams and others. Your $25 ticket includes entertainment, two drinks (wine and beer) snacks, refreshments and ALL THE DANCING YOU CAN DO! Need to sell 50 tickets by Feb. 9 for this event to run. This event is open to the public. Drop in and pick up your ticket at Reception soon.

In an effort to have all drop-in fees consistent, drop-in activities will have a fee of $2 and evening non-member fee will be $5 per person. These fees do not include any monetary prizes. These will be over and above the drop-in fees.

The Board of Directors is hoping to get feedback and ideas regarding other ways of meeting fundraising requirements before implementation of the increased drop-in fee structure.

This new fee structure doesn't have an implementation date so any feedback is important. Please discuss ideas with a Board Member.

Your new Hillsview is available. It is the read of the month containing lots of new happenings at your Centre. Keep track of all the up and coming events in your calendar. You won't want to miss a thing.

"Door2door" will be serving up another delicious lunch on Feb. 13 and dinner on Feb. 23. Please pay when you sign up at reception.

2015 will see no more pro-rating of membership. If you become a member after July 1 to Dec. 31, the cost to join for that six months will be $20. On the renewal date, Jan. 1 of the following year, the cost will be $35.
