GLT lends hand to Guelph play

By Roxanne Thornton
Georgetown Little Theatre

The Black Bonspiel of Wullie MacCrimmon is a truly classic, witty Canadian comedy by renowned playwright, W.O. Mitchell and many of Georgetown Little Theatre members are involved in this WODL festival production in nearby Guelph.

They include Gillian Taggart (makeup), Sharon Vandenberg (costumes), Alex Kanarak (stage management), Bart Penwarden (Pipe-fitting Brown), Adam McCormack (Judas) and Pamela Niesiobedzki-Curtis (director).

Set in rural 1930s, a time of prohibition, religious unions and economic uncertainty, Mitchell gives us an insight into how the seemingly tame sport of curling can turn otherwise sane people into "broom-waving fanatics", especially when the hero has his soul on the line with the devil and his rink from Hell! What would you be willing to give if you could have your fondest dream turned to reality?

The opens at Guelph Little Theatre, 176 Morris St., Guelph on Saturday, Jan. 30 at 8 p.m. with a reception following. The play runs Jan. 30, 31, Feb. 5, 6, 7, 12, 13, 14 at 8 p.m. and Feb. 1 and 8 at 2 p.m. Tickets: adult $19/ students $5 are available from the Box Office, 519-821-0270 or online at guelphlittletheatre.com.

You will not want to miss this riotous curling match where one man's clear understanding of the true nature of evil allows him to take on the most horrific challenger and possibly emerge unscathed. It could only happen in Canada-eh?
