HEALTH

Facing bone, joint surgery? COF can help you prepare

The Canadian Orthopaedic Foundation invites anyone expecting bone and joint surgery to contact COF so that a local volunteer may call you for peer support.

The free Ortho Connect program helps to ease the fear, stress and anxiety that go along with bone surgery and help patients prepare. Call 1-800-461-3639 ext 4, and ask for Lauralee.

The Canadian Orthopaedic Foundation is a registered charity. Every year hundreds of thousands of Canadians face bone and joint surgery such as hip, or knee replacement, shoulder replacement, or foot and ankle. COF's free resources and support programs help those individuals cope with and prepare for their orthopaedic surgery.

For more info go to www.canorth.org, www.orthoconnect.org or follow on Facebook.com/OrthoConnect.
