WHAT'S ON

Red Door Gallery opens new show

Red Door Gallery's new show opens on tonight (March 12) with a reception on March 14, 6-8 p.m.

Natural World is a show of 25 oil paintings by artist Shelley Newman. Newman's large oil paintings depict quintessentially Canadian landscapes. Newman paints "en plein air" (making oil studies in the landscape itself) and her realistic style transports you to Doe Lake, the Madawaska River, Algonquin, and British Columbia.

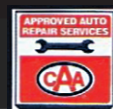

Newman says, "I hope to evoke an emotional stirring of serenity and stillness in the viewer, as though they have been transported to my original vista. I use the forces of nature; light, shadow, and wind, are my palette. Rock, river, forest and field are my characters; they tell the story of journey and exploration in these places of tranquility and fulfillment."

The show continues until April 4. Red Door Gallery is located at 127 Mill St., Georgetown, Thurs.-Sun. 12-5 p.m. Info: www.reddoorgallery.ca
