Job fair with more than 40 employers set for April 14

Halton Region is hosting its first 2015 job fair on Tuesday, April 14, 3-7 p.m. at the Burlington Convention Centre, 1120 Burloak Drive, Burlington. Job seekers are invited to bring their résumés and prepare to meet with more than 40 local employers.

"Halton Region has one of the lowest unemployment rates in all of North America and we'll continue to provide opportunities, like our most recent job fair, for both job seekers and Halton employers to be successful in Halton," said Halton Regional Chair Gary Carr. "By attracting and retaining jobs, while connecting job seekers with employers, we're on track to keep Halton a great place to live and work."

Employers participating in this year's job fair are from a range of industries including technology, government, manufacturing, retail, hospitality sector and healthcare sectors and Halton Region is expecting approximately 1,000 skilled and motivated job seekers to attend.

Every year, the two Employment Halton offices in Oakville and Milton offer a comprehensive range of programs and services to more than 8,000 job seekers and 200 employers every year.
