

CVC AWARD OF DISTINCTION: Credit Valley Conservation (CVC) honoured community members at its annual Friends of the Credit Conservation Awards recently at BraeBen Golf and Country Club in Mississauga. More than 70 guests were in attendance, including representatives from CVC's Board of Directors. Halton Hills area residents Geoff and Shanna Maltby were honoured with a Conservation Award of Distinction for protecting drinking water through environmentally friendly land management practices. The Maltby family built a structure to control waste contamination from livestock, decommissioned an unused well and fenced off a wetland to keep livestock out. They helped threatened grassland birds by participated in CVC's Bird-Friendly Certified Hay program. Their efforts show how responsible practices on one property can have a big impact on the community as a whole.
