

Town helps business rebuild office building

With a little help from the Town's Community Improvement Plan (CIP) a local orthodontist has built a brand new office building on property where the former KFC on Guelph St. used to be.

The new building at 116A Guelph St. will be the home of Dr. Iain Meldrum's practice.

"The funding from the CIP supported a project that significantly improves the area of the Guelph St. corridor, replacing and improving a building that had been vacant and neglected for three years," said Mayor Rick Bonnette.

The CIP establishes a formal partnership between the Town and local businesses to improve their facilities. The Town budgeted $75,000 per year in funding for the program. A $10,000 cheque was handed over to Meldrum Orthodontics.

The program targets three specific areas of Halton Hills - downtown Acton and Georgetown and the Guelph St. corridor. Funds are provided for exterior façade improvements and conversion of underutilized space to either retail or residential uses. Grants range from $10,000 to $12,500 based on the extent of the project.

"We have made a significant investment in the community and are appreciative of the Town's support in the revitalization of the Guelph St. property. The new office creates a wonderful environment for our patients and staff," said Meldrum.
