

Police are looking for a suspect in Nashville North stabbing incident

Halton Police are investigating a stabbing that occurred at Nashville North early Friday morning.

Police were at the Norval bar about 2:30 a.m. investigating another matter when they were alerted to a number of disturbances occurring in and around the nightclub.

At one point, police were approached by a man with visible stab wounds, who indicated he had been stabbed during an altercation.

The man was taken by ambulance to Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto with serious injuries and is expected to survive.

Police investigation has determined the stabbing occurred inside the bar after a fight between several people, including the victim and suspect, erupted. Following the fight, security staff removed the people involved from the bar.

Police are looking for a suspect described as a black male with a light complexion, approximately 20 to 30 years old with dark braided hair in cornrows and a moustache and goatee.

A Halton Hills woman is facing charges after Halton Police stopped a vehicle on Guelph St. near Chapel St. shortly after 1 a.m. Saturday. Charged with impaired driving and having over 80 mg of alcohol in 100 ml of blood is Doris Assmann, 49.

Police are investigating the theft of a $1,000 Wethepeople bicycle from an unlocked garage at a residence on King St. that occurred sometime Monday or Tuesday.
