Cycling tour makes stop in Georgetown

Georgetown will host the fifth day of the six-stop Great Waterfront Trail Adventure today (Thursday) as the cycling tour along the new 475-km Greenbelt Route winds its way through rural Ontario.

Cyclists will rest up with a layover at the Gellert Centre before embarking on the penultimate leg of the tour with a sendoff ceremony at the Royal Canadian Legion in Georgetown today at 7 a.m.

This year's special edition of the GWTA allows participants to be among the first to ride the new Greenbelt Route, which spans seven regions and 27 communities including Halton Hills.

"It is very exciting to have the new 475 km Greenbelt Route run through Halton Hills. We are thrilled to host the group of cyclists as they lay over in Georgetown at the Gellert Centre," said Halton Hills Councillor Jane Fogal, Chair of the Town's Active Transportation Committee and the Bicycle Friendly Community Committee. "The Great Waterfront Trust is to be commended for their tremendous leadership in bringing the vision of a Greenbelt cycling route to fruition."

... Lend Me Your Ears

GETTING USED TO NEW HEARING INSTRUMENTS

Part 1

A patient who has never worn hearing instruments before, or is wearing a new type or circuit may go through a period of adjustment. The following are suggestions to help you through that adjustment period:

Don't get discouraged. It may take time to realize the benefit of your hearing instruments. You have been hearing through a damaged system that has delivered distorted signals to your brain. Now the sounds you are being exposed to are louder and different than what you are used to. In time, your brain will adjust to the new signals it is receiving.

When you first start wearing the hearing instruments, you will suddenly hear sounds you were previously unaware of. Many you will recognize as sounds you used to hear before you had a hearing loss, and others will have to be identified for you. These sounds will seem bothersome at first because you are not used to hearing them. In time, like those with normal hearing, you will unconsciously block out these daily sounds.
