Caledon men charged after Preston's break-in Three Caledon men are each facing several charges in connection to a dozen break-and-enters around the region, which included the theft of cigarettes from a Glen Williams convenience store in early August.

Following a joint investigation between the Halton Regional Police and the Ontario Provincial Police, Criminal Code search warrants were executed this week at a residence in Caledon and on a vehicle on the property.

As a result, a large quantity of cigarettes was discovered that was linked to a break-in on Aug. 4 at Preston's Lucky Dollar convenience on Confederation St. in Glen Williams.

Two male suspects wearing dark clothing were seen forcing their way into the premises at about 4:20 a.m. before fleeing with several cartons of cigarettes.

Charged with break and enter and commit theft, fail to comply with probation, possession of stolen property and possession of break-and-enter tools is 24-year-old Gaige Definney, who was already in police custody on other charges.

Also charged with break and enter and commit theft, along with possession of stolen property, is James Glen, 19.

Lucas Ovel, 22, was charged with break and enter and commit theft, fail to comply with probation and possession of stolen property.
