

United Way wants to groove to new tunes from youth

United Way of Halton Hills is holding a new music video contest— Eudaimonia— for young adults.

Youth are asked to submit original songs that highlight a cause addressed by the United Way of Halton Hills' funding priorities (check www.unitedwayhaltonhills.ca for info on funding priorities). These songs can focus on mental health, poverty, hunger, people with disabilities, etc.

Contestants must note the following:

- Composition, both lyrics and music must be original (must not use third party or copyrighted material);
- Songs must reflect a cause being addressed by United Way;
- Groups of up to four people allowed;
- No swearing;
- No nudity/sexual content;
- No explicit or graphic violence, weapons or branding;
- Contestants must be 25 or under and reside in Halton Hills;

• Videos must be submitted via Youtube to United Way of Halton Hills (unitedwayhh@bellnet.ca) by Oct. 9;

• Online voting (through UW Halton Hills' facebook page) will take place during the week of Oct. 12.

Three finalists will be declared based on the highest number of 'likes' for the videos. Finalists must be available to perform 'live' on the evening of Friday, Oct. 23 at the John Elliott Theatre in Georgetown (and rehearse on evening of Oct. 22).

Tickets for the Live Final Event of Eudaimonia will go on sale Oct. 1 at the John Elliott Theatre Box Office (no charge for performers). Tickets are $20 adults, $10, young adults 25 and under. Tickets also available at the door.

A panel of judges will critique the performances and declare the winners of first, second and third place.

Prizes will be presented to the winner. Prizes awarded must be shared if winner consists of more than one person.

As a condition of entry of a video, the composer/singers agree that the United Way of Halton Hills can use the composition in any promotional activities undertaken by the United Way of Halton Hills.

Sponsorship opportunities are available, and donations of silent auction items are currently being accepted.
