Luckyfool concert at The Hub to aid Bridging the Gap Halton

By Eamonn Maher

An early Halloween party and benefit concert will take place this Saturday night (Oct. 24) at The Hub in Ballinafad and there's no disguising what the event hopes to accomplish.

The GTA-based band Luckyfool is staging the three-set concert to support Bridging the Gap Halton, an organization that helps at-risk youths aged 16-24 who are facing homelessness find confidence and employment on their way to achieving independence.

The show begins at 6 p.m. and a prize will be given for the best costume.

Luckyfool lead singer Robert Chaffey's motivation in helping organize the concert and his involvement with two youth shelters in Peel is to provide advice so they might avoid the pitfalls he experienced as a teen.

"I was a rotten kid," mused Chaffey, who works with the Peel Community Re-Integration Through Employment group and also serves as a wedding officiant for all seasons.

"I meant well, but I was really lost. There were a couple of teachers and a police officer who helped keep my head on straight. As much as my parents loved me, they didn't get me.
