

Fit for Life, Tim Hortons now open at Georgetown Hospital

Visitors and staff at Georgetown Hospital will now have a couple of food and beverage options as two restaurants are set to open later this week.

Halton Healthcare announced that the opening of the Fit for Life and Tim Hortons combination outlet in the main lobby of the Georgetown Hospital is set for this Friday.

"This is an innovative concept and the first of its kind in Canada," said Cindy McDonnell, Chief Operating Officer of Georgetown Hospital.

"There's much anticipation around the opening date, and the new offerings very nicely complement Halton Healthcare's desire to create outstanding patient, visitor and staff experiences," she said.

Through collaboration with staff, physicians, volunteers and the community, the vendors were chosen based on their high-demand products, services and variety of food options and also their ability to provide diverse and healthy offerings. The location in the lobby will provide convenient proximity for staff, patients and visitors.

Fit for Life offers a variety of affordable, healthy and nutritional choices while Tim Hortons offerings will complement the customer experience by providing their brand-ed beverages.
