vice counter;

- Expanding the Access Halton office space;
- Removing the second-floor ramp area and expansion of meeting room space;
- Enhancing the north entrance;
- Relocating the gym facility and change rooms;
- Updating the washrooms;
- Upgrading to mechanical and electrical.

There are currently no plans to update the auditorium or cafeteria. Renovations are set to be complete by July 2020.

Block C is currently the home to HRPS headquarters. During its renovations, the building will expand by a third floor, and a separate, three-storey building will be constructed. Estimated costs for this renovation is $32.8 million, and is expected to be complete by July 2021.

The project has been split into three phases: the first phase will have Block A undergo renovations, second phase includes renovating Block B and construction in Block C, and the third phase will wrap up renovations of Block A.

Of the $69.1 million budget, $9 million has been spent on land acquisition, $1.1 million on studies undertaken between 2006 and 2013, and $1.9 million to iron out the design of the building.

Tenders for each phase are expected to be sent out over the next six months.

Undercover OPP investigation leads to child porn charges for Erin man

An undercover online investigation by the OPP has led to child pornography charges being laid against a 29-year-old Erin man.

On Monday (Jan. 15), Wellington County OPP announced the local detachment and members of the OPP's child exploitation and digital forensics units had arrested and charged an Erin man following a child pornography investigation.

Police say the proactive online undercover investigation was launched in September of 2017 after the OPP received information from Guelph police. The OPP says a warrant was executed in the Town of Erin on Jan. 11.

Holden Raymond Sansolita, 29, of Erin, is charged with possession of child pornography, two counts of accessing child pornography and making child pornography available.

The charges have not been proven in court.

The accused held in the custody of police was scheduled to attend court for a bail hearing on Jan. 11.

Q: Do you have any tips on how to tame my dental anxiety?

A: It's a well-known fact in this country that large numbers of people are afraid of going to their dentists. Some people are so afraid that they neglect even the routine examinations and professional cleanings.

It doesn't have to be that way. Here are some tips to help reduce your anxiety. First, see your dentist before treatment is needed. Get to know your dentist and get comfortable discussing your concerns with the dentist and staff. Set your appointments for a stress-free time of day, not on your lunch hour or immediately after work. Second, have the dentist explain the dental treatment to you. Knowledge of the procedure should let you be more relaxed. Third, let your dentist and hygienist know that you're scared. It's nothing to be ashamed of and you're most certainly not their first patient to feel that way. Fourth, understand that times have changed. There are new methods of controlling and eliminating discomfort that weren't available until recently. Don't let dental fears keep you from having a healthy mouth and teeth.
